Feeding a Toddler: Parent Tested & Pediatrician Approved- Tips for frustrated parents
Dr. Richard Keeler, Allegro Pediatrics

What foods are appropriate for a toddler? Why won’t my toddler eat? Should I purchase organic foods? Does my toddler need a vitamin or supplement? Figuring out what foods are right for toddler can be confusing. Actually getting them to eat those foods can be even more problematic. In this talk, we will cover which foods are ideal for toddlers, how to get them to eat that food and how to keep them safe at the dinner table.

BABY STEPS

Have you wished you could meet other parents of infants/toddlers with special needs? Have you wondered where you could take your baby to experience socialization, play, and also have adult contact? Would you like new play ideas and songs? If you answered yes to any of the questions, then Baby Steps may be for you!

Baby Steps is a parent/infant class that focuses on connection, play, support, and building relationships. In this class, the joys and challenges of raising a child with special needs will be shared, celebrated, and supported. Baby Steps is the first of many beginnings.

If interested, contact your family resource coordinator for more information.

WELCOME NEW STAFF

Hello! My name is Ashley Cumbee, and I am a new Assistant Accountant at Kindering. I grew up in a small town in South Dakota, and got my Bachelors of Administration degree from Dakota State University. For the past four years, I worked as a Accounts Payable person for two hotels in New Jersey. In my free time I enjoy working out, reading, exploring new places, and spending time with my family and friends.

Hi! My name is Thu Nguyen, and I am excited to join the Kindering family as an IT Administrative Assistant. I grew up in Vietnam, a tropical country in Asia that has beautiful sceneries. Since I was young, I’ve been interested in technology and always found myself being curious about how devices work. This was the reason I chose to pursue my bachelor’s in Management Information System at Western Washington University. In my free time, besides from hanging out with my friends and family, I often spend hours in my kitchen to try out both sweet and savory new recipes. Also, I am a crafty person and I enjoy doing handmade projects.

Hi! My name is Hilde Clark-Snustad, and I’m a new Occupational Therapist here at Kindering. I grew up in Montana and completed my undergraduate degree in Psychology at Willamette University in Oregon. After receiving my Bachelor’s degree, I spent the next 5 years working with children in a variety of settings. I provided ESL classes to students in Ecuador, worked in an inpatient mental health hospital with children aged 4-9, and I taught in a Montessori preschool. I then decided to go back to school to learn how to better support the individual needs of each child. I recently completed my Master of Occupational Therapy degree at the University of Washington. In my free time, I enjoy spending time with friends and family, riding my bicycle, camping, making music and exploring new places. I look forward to meeting all of you!
